GUIDELINES:

Classroom Conduct:

- Attend classes regularly and maintain discipline.
- Switch off your cell phone or set it to silent mode before coming to class.
- If you have any questions, ask your instructor directly. Do not talk with your classmates during class.
- Bring your textbook and calculator to class – this is mandatory since you are expected to solve math exercises in class.

Academic Honesty: Any form of cheating during exams will not be tolerated and will immediately result in penalty in the form of reduced grade or even a failing grade in the course. The NSU Academic Honesty Policy will be strictly adhered so all students are expected to be familiar with this policy (refer to the NSU Student Handbook).

Attendance: Students are expected to attend all the classes regularly and on time. If a student is absent for more than two classes, then marks will be deducted for each day of absence. The lecturer will NOT repeat the lecture or summarize classroom activity for students who missed a class. As such, it is the responsibility of the student to collect all necessary material.

Exams: Students are expected to attend all exams on the given date. There will be NO makeup for quizzes. For other exams, makeups will be provided only in the case of emergency and authentic reasons. If a student misses an exam for a valid and acceptable reason, a comprehensive make up exam can be arranged but 20% marks will be deducted from your actual obtained marks. If a student misses both midterms, then s/he will get an “F” grade. Therefore, you are strongly advised to NOT miss any quiz or exam.

Assignments: You will get a total of three assignments, one before each exam to help you get more practice and perform well. Late submission will only be accepted within three days after the deadline but 50% marks will be deducted. After that, NO homework will be accepted!

Special Needs: Please contact your instructor if a disability creates a need for any type of assistance.

Communication: Please contact your instructor during office hours if you have any concerns regarding the course material. Students are also welcome to communicate through email.

Good Luck! ☺☺☺
